

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderrine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a small bottle of Danderrine at any drug store for a few cents and save your hair. After several applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once if bilious or constipated.

Look at the tongue, mother: If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. You needn't coax sick children to take the harmless "fruit laxative." They love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have back-ache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent-lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

TELLS OF SAVING GIRLS FROM HAREM

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—How American women were rescued from violence and death during the reign of terror in Persia, is told in the journal of the Rev. F. N. Jessup, which has just been received by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. Mr. Jessup was stationed at Tabriz, Persia. His journal was sent to Mrs. Jessup in Teheran and by her transmitted by means of returning members of the Persian relief commission. Mr. Jessup tells how he and other Americans were made prisoners by the Turkish authorities, together with doctors, dentists, and other foreigners. For six weeks they were subjected to many indignities, confined in a room remote from the street. Reading was their only solace. They read the Bible half through, all of Gibbons' "Rome," various evangelical works, and a large number of novels. While they were still in prison they learned that much damage had been done to their property and acts of vandalism had been committed at their houses, schools, and other missionary possessions. These two women had been in charge at the Presbyterian orphanage.

A party of rioting Kurds and Turks tried to carry off Miss Bridges. Mr. and Mrs. Pfeiffer clung to her and held her back until a Turkish officer interfered. The officer was told that the American Government would hold Turkey accountable. At last the officer fired several shots at the men attacking Miss Bridges, when the officer fell dead, his blood drenching her clothes.

The women were later carried to the city and were being put on horseback to be taken as captives into the wilds, when other Turkish officers arrived and saved them. They were taken to the commander's headquarters and sent to the college, where some other missionaries were. Here it seemed for a time as though they would be the victims of a tragedy. A plot was in progress to kill Mr. Richards and Dr. Dodd and carry off Mrs. Richards and the other women. A party of Kurds entered the place where the women were, snatched their rings from their fingers, carried the men out, and started to kidnap the women. They were prevented by a body of Kurdish refugees who had been fed and well treated by the Americans. Later the officers restored order and gave the Americans protection.

At the Catholic mission Persian Moslems shot down the bishop and another priest and massacred all the Christians and refugees by clubbing and stoning. The city property at Urumia was looted. All the missionaries' property was taken and the missionaries themselves were so mistreated that they all became ill and one of them, Miss Schoebel, died. John Mooshie, one of the Serbian workers, was murdered in his bed. Dr. Israel was hanged.

RUSS PRISONERS TORTURED BY REDS

(Cable by the International News Service and London Daily Express.) LONDON, Feb. 25.—Barbarous tortures inflicted upon the inmates of Russian prisons by the Bolshevik jailers are described by John Pollock, a member of the British-Polish refugee commission in Russia, to the Daily Express.

Pollock, who had been in Russia since 1916, was arrested and cast into the Gorehovaya prison while trying to escape into Finland, meanwhile posing as a Lettish political emigrant from America. Often more than 200 persons were herded in a cell only little more than twenty by twenty-four feet in extent. The prisoners stood on floors covered with pools of water that oozed through the walls. There was a single bed and the captives took turns lying down in it. The beds in the prison cells were alive with vermin and the prisoners were unable to wash or change their linen for five and six weeks at a time. Their bodies became covered with sores and vermin.

Women ill treated. Terrible treatment was inflicted upon the women in the Gorehovaya prison by a drunken commissioner named Heller. An English woman who had been a captive there revealed how Heller had women publicly stripped and subjected to indecencies. His treatment toward the younger women was especially obscene.

The whole day's food for five persons consisted of two quarts of soup made from rotten fish with maggots floating on the top of it, and two pounds of moldy bread. Food sent by the relatives of prisoners was not delivered.

Torture prisoners. The red guards would fire into the walls of the cells over the heads of the captives, lowering their rifles little by little until the prisoners became frantic.

Salt fish would be fed to the captives and then drinking water would be refused them. They were also flogged on the slightest provocation. It was also reported that four Russian grand dukes had been fearfully beaten and then murdered.

Pollock escaped by walking past the guards at the gate, posing as an officer. After getting through an army of spies he reached Finland. Tooting a horn on Armistice Day did not end your part in winning a peace with victory. Tooting your income tax makes more real sense than tooting a horn.

Editorial

We were talking to a school teacher recently, and asked her what was the most noticeable characteristic of school children.

"Fairness," she replied immediately. "When something is done in school that is against the rules and I can't find out who did it," she went on to say, "I pick out some boy I know did NOT do it and start to punish him. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred some kid in the back of the room will shout, 'He didn't do it, teacher, it was me.'"

Americans have a sense of honor that is inborn. Perhaps it is due to our active interest in sports. We won't presume to put our finger on the cause.

We find this same spirit of fairness in the men and women who trade in our store. They ask only a square deal, which we are always glad to give.

Swagger Capes And Dolmans Dominate Spring Fashions

The cape—certainly the most dashing of garments—has taken by surprise the outposts of fashion, and is already comfortably ensconced in the throne room.

Perhaps, like the coat suit and the blue serge dress, it has come to stay as a staple article of our wardrobe. At any rate, its graceful lines and pleasant habit of draping itself effectively make it one of the most popular garments for spring.

Capes for both evening and street wear are billowing in every day on the crest of the newly arisen wave of fluff and frivolity which has swept in upon women's clothes this season.

Made of wide wale serges, crystal cords, bolivias, wool velours and tricotees, they are sure to have also a smart lining of bright colored silks or perhaps a soft silk lining of their own shade. Those that aren't quite capes pretend to be and hide their sleeves in wide folds of the cloth.

Rookie tans and blues are best, with here and there a gray. Some are warm for early wear.

Full and three-quarter length models. Prices of most of them range from $14.95 to $75.00.

But whatever the price, the woman that buys them may sally forth and know that Fashion has produced nothing better than her own costume.
